Absolutely nothing doing except the ordinary routine. My last day for a little time anyway as morning orderly - I am rather sorry, as I liked having my afternoons off.

Went & had a bath at the Casino - I was told how thin I looked on my return but I rather hope that there were not so many strokes of soil, sand, rock as that upon me. While waiting I fell way to a Belgian officer who described me as 'très gentil'. Noble fellow!

Concert in the evening - programme not as appropriate as there were a good many changes, and the people I went to hear did not sing (Wilder & ^{Mr} Lake). I was surprised to see Dodds here, I met him & had a most helpful talk with him at the London office in January. I stand in his debt.
